THE LOCAL LEGION POST WAS NAMED FOR Leslie Huddleston, Hempstead's first casualty of World War I.

The month of March marks the American Legion's 47th Anniversary beginning on the 14th. Several Arkansians attended the first Legion caucus held in Paris, France. Others attended the second held in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1919.

More than 1,000 officers and enlisted men from most every State showed up at the old Jefferson Theatre at 12th and Locust Street in Saint Louis 47 years ago, some two months after the beginning of the movement in Paris.

A plaque commemorating the founding is affixed to the east side of the old theatre building that is now the Union Electric Company Building.

The Arkansas veterans take particular pride in the fact the Arkansas Legion Department was the first in the United States to be incorporated. Red Pops on lapels have an extra special significance for this unique group of Arkansas men for only a few are the last living Arkansians among the dwindling

Obituaries

Sgt. Norman Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verdo Phillips of Hope, was killed in an automobile accident in Fayetteville, North Carolina, where he was stationed with the 82nd Airborne Division, Friday night, March 25.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a wife, Mrs. Marie Phillips and six children of North Carolina; three brothers, Larry of Hope, Lee Grant and Lewis Phillips of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Joyce Moss of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Jessie Mae Beene of Kansas City, Missouri. Funeral services will be held at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina, Friday, April 1. Messages may be sent to Mrs. Marie Phillips, 441 Moore Street, Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Sgt. Phillips was scheduled to spend the Easter holidays with his parents enroute to Vietnam, where he was to serve until September when he would retire from twenty years of service.

The family has left to attend the funeral.

Rev. Ben F. Helm of Hope passed away in a local hospital Monday night, March 28. Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

UA Grant Would Aid Business

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, said Tuesday that the university has applied for a grant to set up a program to help Arkansas business and industry.

Mullins said the program, to be handled through the Industrial Research and Extension Center at Little Rock, would help business and industry the way the Agricultural Extension Service has aided agriculture for years.

Mullins said that about $100,000 in federal technical services funds will be sought for the rest of the current fiscal year. After July 1, he said, about $500,000 in state and federal funds will be available.

State Department Does Not Shadow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says it does not "shadow" or take any other investigative responsibility in connection with American travelers abroad.

The issue arose Thursday when a State Department aide was queried about the FBI's request for U.S. embassies in Paris and Moscow to keep an eye on Harvard historian H. Stuart Hughes, who plans to go overseas this fall.

The aide said although no investigations are conducted by the embassies, they do as a matter of practice relay whatever information comes to hand.

The State Department canceled the requests for information on Hughes at the request of the security and consular affairs office.

New Cancer Treatment Is Promising

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A strange difference in the energy system of one fast-growing cancer is being exploited to help its victims, a University of Southern California doctor said today.

The cancer is melanoma, sometimes called black cancer. It seems to rely on the oxygen-carrying potential of an essential chemical helper called tyrosinase, said Dr. Harry B. Demopoulos, a USC pathologist. By two methods, he has tried to cut down on the amount of this vital chemical available to the tumor, and it has resulted in shrinking cancers in some 80 per cent of his patients.

It requires, however, a stringent diet to eliminate a basic amino acid that is found in the protein of meat, milk, eggs and other foods. In fact, patients are often reduced to eating a powder-like combination of selected materials, plus certain fruits and vegetables.

In an alternative method, a drug is used to pull copper out of the system, further cutting down on the chemical energy available to the tumor, Demopoulos told the American Cancer

Society's eighth annual Science Writer's Seminar.

The treatment has several drawbacks. The diet is difficult and unpleasant. It takes two months of the drug treatment to wring the copper out of the system — a relatively long period when the patient is suffering from such a wild growing cancer.

Of the first eight patients treated with the diet, Demopoulos said, three could not stay with it. The other five died of cerebral hemorrhages when seeds of their cancers apparently broke blood vessels in their brains. However, in all cases, doctors found at autopsy that the cancers showed signs of regressing.

In 22 later patients, results have been better, but the research program has been under way only 2½ years.

While a few cancers have regressed completely, Demopoulos said, most patients showed an arrested disease and had to remain under treatment.

Soviet Reds in Appeal to Chinese

MOSCOW (AP) — First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev opened the Soviet Communist party's 23rd congress today with an appeal to the Chinese Communists for new efforts to resolve the split in world communism.

The Soviet party is ready to consider the differences with China and "we are confident that a way can be found to overcome" them, Brezhnev said.

He also accused the United States of aggravating the international situation and said the Soviet Union still stands for a settlement of the Vietnamese problem "on the basis set forth by the (North Vietnamese) government and the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (Viet Cong)."

The Communist program calls for recognition of the National Liberation Front as the representative of the South Vietnamese people and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam.

"In connection with the American aggression in Viet Nam and other aggressive actions by U.S. imperialism, our relations with the United States have worsened and the blame lies on the ruling circles of the United States," Brezhnev said.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You gaze into those velvety brown eyes and suddenly you are transported back to another film era, when a sleek beauty in a diaphanous harem gown murmured, "I love you" to Turhan Bey.

The eyes are those of Tina Marquand, who is unmistakably like her mother, the late Maria Montez.

By one of those tricks of fate that delight the hearts of interviewers, Tina was making her first Hollywood movie at Universal. At the time of Tina's birth, her mother was reigning over the lot as queen of the studio's sex-and-sand epics.

Time inexorably changes things. In 1952, Maria Montez died in Paris of a heart attack in a hot tub. Her old studio has long been transformed from a maker of desert fantasies to an entertainment factory operated by MCA.

Now Tina is 20 and appearing with Dean Martin and Alain Delon in "Texas Across the River." She shuns any of the trappings of her mother, who was one of Hollywood's cheesecake stars of the 1940s.

"Pose for bikini shots? Never!" she declared. "It is so ridiculous, going into a studio gallery and posing with the balloons and the false sand and the blue-paper backing. Ridiculous!"

Tina has seen films of her mother in her heyday. Her said appraisal? "She was very beautiful, but very bad as an actress. I don't suppose it was her fault; the films were so ridiculous."

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm so excited I'm about to bust," says Kitty Carlisle who has been signed to sing at the Metropolitan Opera next season.

Singing at the Met has long been a dream for Miss Carlisle, a veteran of musical comedy, the movies, television and some opera roles.

She told Wednesday how Rudolf Bing, general manager of the opera, had given her an audition and an O.K. for the role of Prince Orlofsky in Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus." The role traditionally is sung by a woman. The opera will have six performances during next season, the Met's first in its new home in Lincoln Center.

Miss Carlisle, widow of playwright Moss Hart, said she has no plans to pursue an opera career.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's most tantalizing suspense story of the weekend — and probably for many days to come — was not on the small screens. It involves the industry reaction to disclosure that a former investigator had tampered with the A.C. Nielsen ratings.

The research company has filed a damage suit against Rex Sparger, who told reporters in Oklahoma City that he had attempted to rig ratings of four shows, including the recent Carol Channing special and the Bob Hope Christmas show. His purpose, he said, was to gather material for a book he was writing.

Television network experts have always said that the A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings were only one of many tools used in judging the success or failure of a program. Nielsen's ratings are based on program choices of a national audience sample of about 1,200 homes.

Over the seasons, television's rule-by-ratings has been a highly controversial subject. Ratings have been objects of congressional and Federal Communications Commission hearings. Sponsors and advertising agencies turn to ratings because there is no more exact method available to measure an audience. The cost of a commercial message in evening network programs starts at around $30,000 per minute and can go up to twice that.

Sheer size of audience, however, is but one measure and the Nielsen reports are among many in the field.

Now that it is known that Nielsen's super-secret list of sample homes can be cracked and some of the families reached, the whole rating procedure appears to be due for inspection.

The three networks interrupted Saturday programs for the long press conference of the Gemini 8 astronauts. Viewers anticipated a hair-raising adventure yarn.

The two young men, however, reported their space trip in the driest technical language, much of it impossible for the layman to follow. Their calm detachment made the flight and emergency return sound about as exciting and perilous as a weekend fishing trip cut short by a balky outboard motor.

Actress Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Because she was shown in what she called outmoded costumes and hairdos, actress Loretta Young has sued the National Broadcasting Co. for $2.5 million.

She charged breach of a 1959 contract for reruns of television films in which she appeared in the introductions.

Miss Young contends NBC agreed not to use the introductions, but did use them outside the United States.

Clay Retains Whatever Title He Had

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
TORONTO (AP) — It was like a fight between a matador and a bull, only the bull didn't have any horns. That was heavy-weight champion Cassius Clay's lop-sided victory in 15 rounds over game, iron-jawed George Chuvalo of Canada Tuesday night.

The 14,500 partisan fans — 13,900 paid — at Maple Leaf Gardens gave the plucky Canadian champion a roaring ovation for maintaining his record of never having been knocked off his feet although he must have taken at least 1,000 punches on the head from the unbeaten American.

How the 24-year-old champion hopes to get into the ring within two months, either in Toronto or London, against Henry Cooper, the 31-year-old British ruler from London.

Old Envy isn't in gutty George's camp when it comes to soaking up punishment but he can hit pretty good. He floored Clay with a left hook before being stopped in the fifth round at London on June 18, 1963. Clay has been dropped only twice in his 5½-year career.

The big drawback with Cooper is that he has a push-button on his chin. He has a 31-11 won-lost-draw record, including 21 knockouts. But he has been stopped six times — by Zora Folley, former world champion Ingemar Johansson, Clay, and some characters named Uber Bacilieri, Peter Bates and Joe Bygraves.

5 Exhibition Games Are Rained Out

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rain wiped out five exhibition baseball games Tuesday but Ken McMullen brought a ray of sunshine through the clouds for Washington Manager Gil Hodges.

McMullen pounded two home runs and drove in five runs as the Senators whipped Kansas City 6-4 in a game called after eight innings because of rain.

Elsewhere, Minnesota blanked Los Angeles 2-0 in a rain-shortened, five-inning game, Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 6-5, San Francisco downed California 2-1 and Chicago outlasted Cleveland 12-10.

The New York Mets-New York Yankees, Baltimore-Detroit, Boston-Houston, St. Louis-Cincinnati and Atlanta-Philadelphia games all were rained out.

McMullen, who was the Senators' regular third baseman last season after coming over from Los Angeles in the Frank Howard-Claude Osteen deal, continued to flash the muscle that made him a Senator favorite in 1965.

The husky infielder walloped 18 home runs last year, second on the club only to Howard's 21, and drove in 54 runs in 150 games.

Hodges, who had batted him in the No. 2 spot most of last year, dropped him to No. 6 Tuesday, hoping to capitalize on his RBI potential, and the move paid off handsomely.

McMullen connected with one man on in the fourth and then with two on in the eighth as the Senators, who had lost their first in exhibitions, won their fifth straight.

The output hoisted McMullen's spring figures to six homers and 11 RBIs. He leads the club in both departments.

Ken Harrelson and Dick Green homered for Kansas City. The Twins pushed across two unearned runs to beat the Dodgers in a rematch of last season's World Series opponents.

Harmon Killebrew started the Twins' rally with a fourth-inning single. He moved to second on a wild pitch and then scored on Pee-wee Oliver's boot of Earl Batley's bouncer. After Jerry Kindall singled Batley to second, Andy Kosco's pinch double brought him home with the second Minnesota run.

McMullen connected with one man on in the fourth and then with two on in the eighth as the Senators, who had lost their first in exhibitions, won their fifth straight.

The output hoisted McMullen's spring figures to six homers and 11 RBIs. He leads the club in both departments.

Ken Harrelson and Dick Green homered for Kansas City. The Twins pushed across two unearned runs to beat the Dodgers in a rematch of last season's World Series opponents.

Harmon Killebrew started the Twins' rally with a fourth-inning single. He moved to second on a wild pitch and then scored on Pee-wee Oliver's boot of Earl Batley's bouncer. After Jerry Kindall singled Batley to second, Andy Kosco's pinch double brought him home with the second Minnesota run.

Kittens Win But Bobcats Come in 5th

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sportswriter

The Hope Bobkittens won the Jr. High Division of a seven team track and field meet here yesterday while in the Senior Division the Bobcats pulled up fifth as Arkadelphia set the pace.

The Bobcats competing without the services of at least three of their top personnel, which included Bobby Samuels who had previously averaged around twenty points a meet, were unable to challenge the tougher teams.

The scoring in the Senior Division went as follows: Arkadelphia 75½, Texarkana 62, Murfreesboro 61½, Plain Dealing, La., 56, Hope 22½, Gurdon 16, Ashdown 10.

In the Jr. Division however the home team dominated everything. In fact the Bobkittens outdistanced the other opponents without help from their eighth graders, who were entered as a separate team. Had the Hope Jr. team consisted of both eighth and ninth graders and no just 9th graders as the other teams do they would have been given credit for an additional seven points.

The Scoring in the Jr. Division went as follows: Hope 78, Plain Dealing 63, Gurdon 42, Texarkana 37, Murfreesboro 35, Ashdown 13½, Hope 8, 7 points.

There was one Hope High School record broken. In the Senior Division 120 yard low hurdles Buzz Andrews turned in the record breaking time of 16.7 seconds.

Here are the places in the individual events including winning times and distances.

Senior High Division

Bold — Brave

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HALLANDALE, Fla.—(NEA)—Eddie Nelay is down to one measly also-ran for the $100,000 added Florida Derby. And isn't that a fine state of affairs?

Eddie's been scrounging a living out of training horses for 20 years, and this was going to be his big bonanza. All those fine horses of Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, many of them sired by the great Bold Ruler, were ready to mop up the three-year-old field. Eddie had cornered the market.

Until the inevitable injury jinx hit like Russian roulette.

Buckpasser, the glamor three-year-old, only serious threat to Graustark in the winter book, came up with a quarter-crack in the right front foot and a future as speculative as a go-go joint. Poker, which belongs to Ogden Phipps (and that keeps it all in the family), has a muscle injury in the left rear stifle which clouds his prospects.

And Bold and Brave, the dark horse of the lot and Eddie's only real hopeful left for the Florida Derby, apparently doesn't want to go too far, a trait that Mrs. Phipps traces back to his mother.

The thoroughbred is an accident-prone, unpredictable animal and recent seasons have been spotted by breakdowns of contenders for the ne plus ultra of the racing season, the Kentucky Derby. Last year Sadair and Bold Lad went out of commission. This year Buckpasser and Graustark.

"The whole darn breed," Nelay shakes his head, "is fragile. It's a hybrid animal, only 100 years old, bred to go as far and as fast as he can."

"I also think the lengthening of the racing season is a contributing factor to the streak of injuries."

And the best-laid plans of mice and men don't mean a damn. Turf people have been critical of taking an immature two-year-old horse and subjecting him to the rigors of a long summer of racing.

So last year, recognizing the championship possibilities of Buckpasser, Mrs. Phipps decided to pass up the lucrative Pimlico Futurity and Garden State and save the two-year-old champ for the prestigious three-year-old season. The trail starts at Hialeah with the Flamingo, goes on to Gulfstream Park here for the Florida Derby, up to New York's Aqueduct for the Wood in late April, and then two weeks later plunges into the Triple Crown—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Buckpasser made it through the Flamingo which he won from Abe's Hope, then broke down.

"So," shrugs Nelay, "what do you do?"

He separated Stupendous, which had always run in the shadow of Buckpasser, and sent that Bold Ruler progeny over to the Fair Grounds in New Orleans to grab off the Louisiana Stakes, but an unobtrusive entry, Blue Skyer, sneaked in by a nose over "sure-thing" Stupendous.

Eddie still has his fingers crossed that Impressive, another of his three-year-old gang, will live up to his name in tests at Aqueduct, leading up to the Wood Memorial on April 23.

It doesn't always help to be an expert, either. Willie Shoemaker generally has the pick of his mounts. He was all set for the winter with Sabre Mountain, touted as the new wonder horse in California. But Sabre Mountain was whipped handily in the Santa Anita Derby and broke down (familiar story), and Shoe decided to switch to Bold and Brave in Nelay's stable, for the Florida Derby.

Willie has done this before, notably last year when he unseated Don Pierce as the rider of Hill Rise, and Hill Rise didn't win a thing.

Well, Bold and Brave was a rousing fifth-place finisher in the Fountain of Youth Stakes the other day.

Top Pros in Greensboro Open Meet

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Today's pro-am preliminary to the $100,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament featured such top pros as Sam Snead, Doug Sanders and Arnold Palmer.

Prize money for the pro-am totaled $5,000 while the 150 amateurs competed for $2,500 in merchandise.

Fifty professionals teamed with the amateurs at Sedgefield County Club, site of the 29th GGO starting Thursday.

Snead is defending champion and will be shooting for his ninth Greensboro title in this year's tournament.

Palmer, who skipped the Jacksonville Open won by Sanders, will be getting his game in shape for the Augusta Masters beginning a week from Thursday.

The players, through their attorney, J. William Hayes turned it down and were quoted by Bavas as saying:

"It was simply a matter of economics — not enough money."

The Gold Nugget Twins, who had originally asked for $500,000 apiece on three-year contracts, remained out of touch with the press, which has been their policy to a great extent since they became official holdouts Feb. 27.

Holdout Twins Reject Final Dodger Offer

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Baseball's costliest holdout continued into its 32nd day today after pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale rejected what the Los Angeles Dodgers said was their final offer.

ACTION CENTRAL—Everybody in the ball park, it seems, is converging on second base. One man got there late—the runner, Boston's Joe Foy. White Sox shortstop Ron Hansen backs up the play while Al Wels takes the throw for the tagout.

DANGEROUS ASSIGNMENT—Jockey J. Rogan was lucky to escape with minor bruises after his mount, Altercation, threw him into the middle of the field during a race at Sandown Park, England.

COURT JASTERS—The Cardinals have a new brother act in Danny Jaster, left, and Larry. Both are lefthanders. Larry had a brief chance with St. Louis at the end of last year and did well with a 3-0 record.

New York Yankees

By SANDY PADWE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PITCHING—What television wants, television usually gets. But this year, CBS is in trouble. They need the weatherman and there's just no way to buy him. Without warm weather in April and September, Whitey Ford's appearances will be reduced. That means problems for the Yankees who need all the pitching help possible. Ford's circulatory ailment prevents him from pitching well in cold weather. And in the East, April and September are the two coldest months of the baseball season. Ford was 16-13 last season, the poorest record of his career. Mel Stottlemyre was the Yankees' big winner with a 20-9 record. Al Downing slipped to 12-14 and Jim Bouton, bothered by a sore arm, was 4-15. Steve Hamilton was the best relief man with a 1.40 ERA in 46 appearances. Pedro Ramos was in 65 games with a 2.93 mark. Bob Friend may supply some help for the starting rotation. If Bouton is healthy again, the Yankees will be, too. RATING—B.

INFIELD—With Tony Kubek retired and Phil Linz traded, the Yankees are thin at shortstop. Ruben Amaro, who came from the Phillies, has a chance to start. So does Bobby Murcer, a highly praised rookie. The rest of the infield is set with Joe Pepitone at first, Bobby Richardson at second and Cleve Boyer at third. Even without the established shortstop, it's a solid infield. RATING—B.

OUTFIELD—The health of Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris is of prime importance. Nobody really knows how much Mantle will play this year. He just had a shoulder operation and his knees have always been weak. The end of his career may be near. Maris played in only 46 games last season due to a hand injury. Tom Tresh, in center field, led the Yankees in batting (.279), home runs (26) and RBI (74) which explains why New York finished sixth last year. RATING—B.

Changed Year
England adopted Jan. 1 as the first day of the year in 1751, when it took 11 days from that year and made subsequent years begin on Jan. 1 instead of March 25.

CATCHER—Elston Howard also was out part of last season with an injured elbow. Ellie is 35 now but he says he feels fine. For the Yankees' sake, he'd better. Behind him there's only Jake Gibbs. Jim Heggen, the bullpen coach, may have to make a comeback. RATING—B.

BENCH—It doesn't scare people any more. The Johnny Mizes are gone. Now there is Roger Repoz and Lou Clinton. Hector Lopez is still around, though. Infield subs are Horace Clarke and Ray Barker. RATING—C+.

SUMMARY—Injuries ruined the Yankees last year and if they get solid performances from some of the injured personnel, they can't help improving. Whatever help Mantle can provide will be an added asset. It shouldn't be as bad a summer as last year for Johnny Keane. Prediction—4th.

TONGUE IN CHEEK—Leo Durocher has some choice words for the members of the Chicago Cubs, training at Long Beach, Calif. Leo, a manager again after an 11-year absence, figures the Cubs can improve on their eighth place finish of 1965.

Dark Maps Dodger-Style Attack for Kansas City

(Fourth of a Series.)

By DAVE BURGIN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Now maybe Kansas City baseball fans will get to see the serious side of Charles O. (for owner) Finley.

Finley has brought Alvin R. (for restless) Dark back into the managerial ranks.

Dark is no goof-off. He is, in fact, as intense and serious-minded as anybody in baseball.

Chances are the former San Francisco Giants manager will not be a party to such Finley promotional gimmicks as having Bert Campaneris play each of the nine positions in one game.

And the past two seasons the Athletics, under managers Ed Lopat, Mel McGaha and Haywood Sullivan, have established themselves as a devil-may-care ball club. Last-place finishes and this sort of attitude just don't set well with Dark.

"There's much to be said for a relaxed atmosphere," Dark said, "but it can be carried to extremes. You stop thinking and the first thing you know you stop caring. There has to be some pressure."

"I made it clear to Mr. Finley that I intend to win," Dark went on. "I had a chance to watch Kansas City the last five weeks of last season. I was amazed. There is tremendous promise on this club."

"I expect this potential to be met. With a 10th-place team, there is no other outlook for any manager to have, the way I see it."

In his four years with the Giants (Dark's teams won one pennant, finished third twice and fourth in his last year), Dark freely meted out fines for sloppy play and clubhouse monkeyshines.

As a baseball spectator last year, Dark was impressed with the way the Dodgers won the pennant. "We've got about the same kind of personnel the Dodgers have," he said. "I'm really restless to get started and try it out."

"Of course, we don't have anything like the Dodgers' two shutout pitchers, but we've got the speed and a better defense. So for the most part we'll be playing for one run using the hit-and-run, bunt, squeeze play and stolen base."

"Campaneris has a chance to be another Maury Wills and you know what a player like Wills can mean. Campy hit .270 last year and stole 51 bases."

"I really think that when we get the hang of this style of play we'll surprise a lot of people and start winning and filling the stands."

"We certainly should be able to finish higher than last," Dark said.

If not, well . . . it's for sure the imaginative Finley will think of something else to try.

DUST BAWL—St. Louis catcher Tim McCarver dives (top) to tag out Ron Hunt of the Mets. But Hunt's dust-raising head-first slide into the plate beat the tag and the umpire bawls out his decision for all to hear.

BELLY WHOPPER—Gump Worsley, goalie for the Montreal Canadiens, heads for the ice, stomach first, to prevent a score in fast action around the Montreal net.

HORSE PLAY—Don Drysdale, a Los Angeles Dodgers spring holdout, spends a day on his ranch in Southern California with his daughter, Kelly, grooming three of his thoroughbreds—Bonus Baby, Slide Kelly and Triple Play.

Changing Climate

Baseball's argument that a long-term contract is too risky—i.e., the case of Koufax and Drysdale—is ridiculous in today's star climate. One good blow on the knee could ruin the career of any football player, but the danger didn't prevent the Green Bay Packers from heaping $600,000 on Donny Anderson or the New York Jets from guaranteeing Joe Namath $427,000, both over a period of years. . . .

There's no greater inherent gamble involved in Sandy throwing his arm out than in Sinatra getting laryngitis. . . . In either case, nobody would give up immediately on the star involved, so he'd have some presence value for at least a couple of years. . . .

No better illustration of the turnover in the Yankee way of doing things than the probability that rookie switch hitter Roy White will open the season in a regular outfield spot, though he was strictly a second base prospect until this year. The Yankees used to let their kids mature on the farm—an extra year for Phil Rizzuto at Kansas City, a few months on the farm for Mickey Mantle to settle down—because the varsity was always well-stocked and the winning pattern was never interrupted. . . .

Coach Don Haskins of NCAA basketball champ Texas Western resents the allegation that his team paraded to a 28-1 record because it had soft opposition. "We played good teams," he says, "that didn't have big reputations." . . . The Miners, incidentally, were beaten early in the season but it didn't count against their record, since the defeat was inflicted by the independent Phillips Oilers. . . .

The Pistons were still in Fort Wayne, and the Royals played in Rochester, their attack built around tragic Maurice Stokes. George Mikan was in the center spot for the Minneapolis Lakers, while Dolph Schayes was the high scorer for the Syracuse Nationals and Nat (Sweetwater) Clifton was a big New York favorite. That was the picture of the National Basketball Association the last time the Boston Celtics failed to win an Eastern Division title. The season was 1955-56, and Philadelphia Warriors won both the East and the NBA title, helped by a young rookie named Tom Gola. Of all the pros who played that decade ago, only Gola, Jack Twyman of the Royals and John Kerr of the Bullets were still active players this season. Not a single Celtic has played on a second place team. . . .

Jimmy Demaret happened to be talking to manager Bill Rigney of the California Angels and heard that their new park was freshly seeded with grass. "You still playing that game outdoors?" smirked Demaret, native of Houston and the Astrodome, where they've brought the great outdoors indoors. . . .

Jack Kramer's candor is refreshing. Although he's promoting a revival of the pro tour in tennis, Jake admits the caliber of play isn't what it was a decade ago when Gonzales was in his prime and Aussies like Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad were at the top of their game. He picks Rod Laver as the class of today's pros, with Earl Buchholz coming up faster every year. But the great player of the future, in his mind, is Arthur Ashe if "impending army service doesn't affect his game." . . .

Between you'n'me, the Clay-Chavalo fight will invade the home television screens four days after the fight. ABC bought the rights for a paltry $15,000. . . .

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Frequent Bathing Remains Best Attack Against Odor

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Many readers complain of excessive sweating. Their problem is often aggravated by an unpleasant odor associated with sweat. Perspiration itself is practically odorless but odors can arise from bacterial decomposition of the oils secreted by the skin, especially in parts such as the feet, armpits and groin, where evaporation is delayed.

The first line of attack is frequent bathing. The underwear should be changed daily and washed in cool water to prevent the fixation action of hot water on the mixed secretions embedded in the garments. If an odor persists in the clothing, it may be necessary to soak the clothes in a sodium hypochlorite solution.

Some bath soaps now contain an antiseptic such as hexachlorophene, trichloro-carbanilide or bithionol. These additives do not kill the germs on the skin but they greatly reduce their rate of growth. If such a soap is used, no other deodorant or antiperspirant preparations should be applied to the skin because they would interfere with the action of the antiseptic.

Many antiperspirants are now available. They will not completely suppress perspiration but only reduce it. In

Germans Willing to Talk It Over

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS BERLIN (AP) - Two West German political leaders cautiously indicated over the weekend they are willing to participate in public discussions with Communist East German political parties.

Opposition Socialist party chief Willy Brandt said representatives of all parties in East and West Germany should be free to hold public discussions in any part of Germany on the future of the divided country.

Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, was commenting on the latest in a public exchange of proposals between his party and the East German Communist party. He rejected a Communist proposal that the discussions be limited to these two parties. Brandt also said no one should be persecuted for attending such talks.

Erich Mende, deputy chancellor and leader of the Free Democrats in the West German coalition government, said his party was prepared to hold public talks with the minor East German Liberal Democratic party.

Mende, adding conditions similar to Brandt's, demanded that politicians who participate in talks in East Germany should not be labeled "half-Communists" on their return to West Germany.

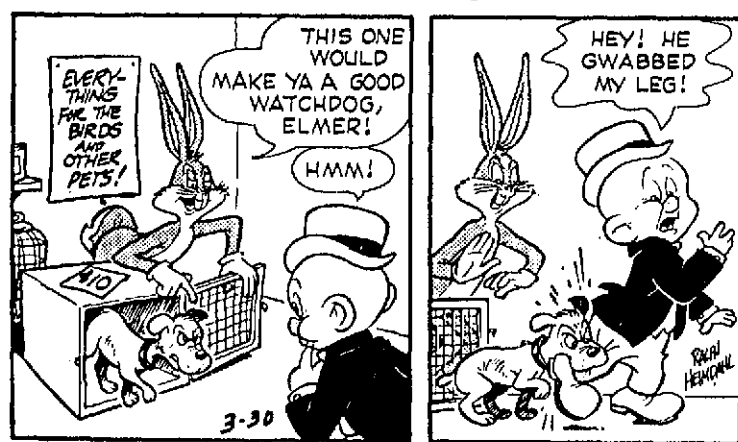

(NEA Newsmag) U.F.O. SIGHTINGS—Scores of witnesses in the Hillsdale-Ann Arbor area of southeast Michigan have reported sighting strangely glowing unidentified flying objects. An official Air Force investigation is being conducted out of Selfridge Air Force Base.

Education Only Matter of Desire

Any high school graduate with an earnest and fervent desire to obtain a college education can now obtain it at Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia through loan, grant or scholarship.

This was pointed out Tuesday by William Echols, public relations director of the institution, in a speech before Hope Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Echols went on to tell of the expanding program now underway at Henderson, stating that a new eight-story complex for men was nearing completion and that another eight-story complex for women students will be built soon on the newly acquired property formerly owned by the Arkadelphia Country Club.

He also stated that a new football stadium will be built and that plans were being drawn for a $1 million dollar library building.

The school now has an enrollment of nearly 2500 students. The program was arranged by Mel Thrash.

GOP Platform Plan Appears to Be Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders have shelved — and probably doomed — a proposal that a partywide conference be convened to work out in advance the shape of the 1968

GOP platform.

The Republican Coordinating Committee Monday agreed to put off formal consideration of the plan until after the congressional elections next November.

One party source said flatly the project is dead.

Michigan Gov. George Romney told newsmen he concurred with the postponement. He said the conference idea — with its presidential campaign overtones — should not be seriously considered until after the coming elections.

"I have developed very significant reservations personally as to the wisdom of trying to do it under the circumstances," Romney said. "My support for it has declined."

Romney and Wisconsin Rep. Melvin R. Laird had joined in earlier support of the conference plan. Laird headed the platform committee at the last Republican National Convention.

The idea was to shape well in advance a platform acceptable to all potential Republican presidential nominees, thus avoiding the possibility of a national convention fight on platform issues.

Laird said unless all the contenders for the 1968 presidential nomination agreed to accept the platform produced by an advance conference "The whole thing would be an exercise in futility."

"If you can't get the agreement, you might as well not do it," he said.

Romney now ranks as one of the likely contenders. He said it would be premature to discuss the agreement ground rules Laird deems essential.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss would not talk about the conference plan but he is known to be cool toward the idea.

New Cabinet Sworn in for Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno swore in Indonesia's new Cabinet today, and Lt. Gen. Suharto said he thinks critics will give it a chance.

Sukarno in a speech at the swearing-in ceremony also took note of the opposition from students and political groups. He said all people cannot be pleased all the time.

"According to my belief, I have succeeded in making it (the Cabinet) perfect a gain," Sukarno said, but indicated changes might be made in the future.

"If later we have to make it perfect again, we will change it again in accordance with my conscience," he said.

Sukarno said advice on the Cabinet appointments came from others but he retained full authority in making them.

"I stress these things so persons abroad will know I am not a mere figurehead president," he said.

Suharto, Indonesia's new strongman, told newsmen that although there was dissatisfaction with the new Cabinet, he believed the complainers would give it a chance to try to resolve the country's grave economic problems.

Students and political groups have called for a simplified Cabinet. They have also complained that there are too many old faces left in the government.

Violent student demonstrations toppled the previous Cabinet on Feb. 24, and Sukarno handed over most of his power to Suharto. The students objected to Communists and pro-Communists in the government in the wake of the Communist-backed coup attempt last October.

Two Counties to Seek Joint Grant

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Benton and Washington counties will apply for a $55,000 federal grant for planning of a northwest Arkansas regional airport, attorney Bill Enfield of Bentonville says.

Enfield, chairman of the regional airport committee, said the proposed airport would serve the entire northwest Arkansas area and would offer better facilities for large commercial airlines.

His Prayer Was Appropriate

JUNEAU, Alaska. (AP) — The Alaska Legislature labored by candlelight and battery-powered spotlights when a power failure caused by a snowslide doused the lights in the Capitol for an hour and a half Monday.

House Speaker Mike Gravel, an Anchorage Democrat, offered the opening prayer in the absence of the House chaplain. "Oh Lord," he prayed, "give us light so that we can do the work we must."

Ride Out Storm on Drilling Rig

LONDON (AP) — Two tugboats were towing the oil drilling rig Constellation back to England today after its crew of 29 Americans and one Briton rode out a North Sea gale.

Winds of up to 80 miles an hour drove the rig within 20 miles of the coast of Holland before the gale blew itself out Monday night.

The Constellation was being towed from Glasgow, Scotland, to a drilling spot about 25 miles from the mouth of the Humber River in the English Channel when the gale struck Sunday.

Pickup Overturns, Man Is Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Floyd Gladby, 57, of Hattiesville (Conway County), was killed Tuesday night when a pickup truck overturned off Arkansas 95 about a mile north of here.

Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Bill Baughman, 29, also of Hattiesville, was taken to a Little Rock hospital.

He said officers were unable to determine who was driving.

Hearing Ends on Unauthorized Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has concluded a day-long hearing on Staughton Lynd's recent unauthorized trip to North Viet Nam. The Yale professor refused to promise he would not visit an off-limits country.

This means, an attorney for Lynd said, the State Department probably would refuse to restore his passport and the case will be decided in the courts.

Star Tries Out New Picture Idea — With Success

For many years this writer has had a special idea about how to expand picture coverage for a local newspaper, and this month we put it into effect — successfully.

The idea was simply this: Metropolitan papers have no trouble getting pictures, for their staffs are large enough to assign photographers to almost every public meeting. But this is impossible on a small-town paper with its limited staff. You have the problem of developing and printing the pictures after they reach your plant, and there simply aren't enough staffers and not enough hours in the day to allow more than a few staff photos.

The idea, therefore, was to win the public's help in making pictures, the newspaper furnishing the camera and film, and doing the processing after the camera is returned to the office.

We put the idea over this month, starting with the lunch-club, in each of which a member was willing to help. Bill Cross shot the Lions Club, Henry Haynes the Kiwanis meeting, and B. N. Holt the Rotary.

Their printed pictures in The Star have been uniformly successful, and while each of the three men has had camera experience the particular camera they are using is simple enough even for the inexperienced, as they would be the first to agree.

In order to execute this idea your editor had to find a particular camera. The requirements were:

1. That it be a 35mm. model, for compactness.

2. That it have a "fast" lens to eliminate need for a flash-gun.

3. That it be fully automatic so the picture-taker had but one thing to do before pushing the exposure button.

The development of the battery-powered light-cell brought automation to negative-using cameras, making them as simple to use as the paper-using Polaroid — newspapers, particularly offset-printed newspapers like this one, have to have negatives because they make for better enlargements. So the automation of the negative-using camera was a great breakthrough for our idea.

The Star bought a 35mm. automatic Minolta camera with an F 1.8 lens. We also bought Tri-X film in 100-foot rolls and loaded our own cartridges in short takes — six exposures — enabling us to stretch the equivalent of a store-bought 20-shot cartridge over three assignments instead of wasting it on one.

The photo-cell built into the lens measures the light and automatically sets the shutter and diaphragm. All the picture-taker has to do is focus the camera and press the button.

It's an idea that is working out, and we'll buy additional cameras such as the Minolta or its equivalent — and representatives of public organizations will be welcome to come by the newspaper office and borrow them for any newsworthy event.

Of course the spectre of disaster always hangs heavy over the head of anyone handling pictures. One slip in processing back at the newspaper office could cancel out the best of camera efforts. It hasn't happened yet — but it nearly happened Monday. Bill Cross shot the Lions Club luncheon, and the pictures we published Tuesday appeared to show there was a lot of smoke in the meeting room.

That wasn't Bill Cross' fault. In our processing the negatives weren't fully cleared. The final photographic solution, hypo or "fixer," dissolves away the white anti-halation backing which is on every film — only this time the backing wasn't fully dissolved, producing a hazy effect.

On post-mortem we discovered that our tank of hypo had grown old — in the confusion of switching to offset printing the first of the year we had permitted the solution to stand unchanged for three months, and it was exhausted. Ordinarily the tanks are dumped once a month. Believe me, we are back on schedule today . . .

Soon Admit China

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A British diplomat says that Communist China will gain admission to the United Nations at the next session of the world body. Peter Hope, alternate British delegate to the United Nations, said this does not mean Peking would want to join.

40 Arrested as FBI Moves in on Draft Dodge Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — The FBI arrested 38 men in daybreak raids today and said they have cracked draft-dodging schemes in New York and Cleveland which involved sale of fake enlistment papers for up to $5,000.

The raids netted 33 men in New York, including nine fathers and eight of their sons.

More arrests were expected. A federal official here said the participants paid up to $5,000 for phony statements of an individual's military status which were forwarded to local draft boards.

He said the scheme had taken in up to $80,000 since 1963. The FBI agents quickly picked up 33 persons — including nine fathers and eight of their sons — and were looking for several more.

The men are charged with violating a 1948 Selective Service act — a charge carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine upon conviction.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said warrants for the men were issued by the U.S. District Court in Brooklyn March 29. The roundup was carried out shortly after dawn today.

Hoover said two principals in the alleged scheme were arrested in February. They are Paul G. Miller, 28, of Flushing, N.Y., a department store credit authorizer, and Solomon Gotfriend, 56, a civil service worker and resident of Long Island.

Bennett's Action Is a Puzzle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Although Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett told reporters not to try reading anything between the lines of his call Tuesday for a "draft Fabius" movement, many observers were puzzled by his surprise announcement.

Bennett, one of several possible Democratic candidates for governor, urged those thinking about making the race to forget it and publically urge Gov. Orval Faubus to run for a seventh term.

Faubus said last week when he announced his retirement that the only thing which could make him run again was the absence of a strong Democrat to face Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

Faubus has indicated that he thought the only man who has filed as a Democrat, Rep. Kenneth Sulzer of Osceola, is not a strong candidate.

Some took Bennett's statement at face value. Others wondered if there could be a motive other than getting Faubus to run again. One line of thought was that Bennett's move could force Faubus to get back into the race, or get out of it completely.

When newsmen persisted in questioning Bennett about such things as who wrote the statement (Bennett said he did), Bennett said:

"I don't know what you're trying to read into the statement. Why don't you go ahead and run the story? You've got enough."

Development Group to Meet

The Hempstead County Development Council will meet on Thursday night at 7:30 in the Municipal Courtroom of the City Hall, according to Burgess Garrett, Chairman.

The group will elect officers for the new year and fill expired terms of those council members serving for one year. Chairman of area of concern committees will have an opportunity to make any reports they may wish.

NYU Give Totals $6 Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — New York University has received a $6-million gift toward construction of a 12-story library and study center.

Elmer H. Bobst, chairman of the board of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., made the gift.

Hope Group Sees Camden Production

Members of the Hope Community Theater has a meeting Monday night in the auditorium of City Hall. Several Members of the group gave very interesting reviews of two plays they had seen in the past few weeks. They had gone to Camden to see "My Fair Lady" presented by the Camden Community Theater, and to Arkadelphia to see "Night of January 16th" presented by the Arkadelphia Community Theater.

Plans have been made to temporarily change the meeting night to Thursday since there are several conflicts on Monday. At the next meeting, which will be April 21 at the City Hall, our Program Chairman is planning to have an entertaining and enlightening program for those present.

No Word on Victim of Kidnaper

By HEDLEY BURRELL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Friends have started a drive to raise a reward for the return of a teenager whose kidnaper has remained ominously silent.

Police chased down dozens of leads, poured over boxes of photographs and even made two fruitless flying raids in their search for 18-year-old Daniel Goldman.

But apparently they were no closer to a solution than they were Monday morning when a heavy-set middle-aged man in a baseball cap forced him to leave his home at gunpoint.

Friends in the tiny, exclusive community of Surfside on Miami Beach formed a committee to raise $50,000 for information leading to Daniel's safe return. Police approved the idea. They said a reward often produces vital information in major cases.

A prayer service on behalf of the quiet, studious high school senior was set at Temple Raphael, which was built by Daniel's father, Aaron, a wealthy contractor who is also a principal in at least six firms.

One police officer suggested that business dealings might be a factor in the kidnapping. Sgt. Warren Dalrymple said the kidnaper told the father, "You don't remember me, but you cheated me out of some money."

At one point Tuesday, police carried six boxes of what appeared to be business records into the Goldmans' luxurious home which is built around an enclosed swimming pool just off Biscayne Bay.

But police, who were talking very little about the case in hopes of protecting Daniel's life from what they described as an extremely dangerous kidnaper, indicated that this line of investigation had not been productive.

All His Life, Kirk Douglas Has Believed Success Lies Only in Constant Success

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — All of his life, Kirk Douglas has believed in the cult of the champion, whose only success lies in constant victory.

Lately, however, the actor confesses to having some second thoughts.

"Something happens in this quest for success. Sometimes you can lose yourself along the way," he said.

"I'd like to be able to afford the luxury of failure. You have to feel free to do what you want to do, although this is hard to attain in any field."

"But I feel most people can come pretty close to getting what they want out of life—if they are really ready to pay the price."

After acting in some 40 pictures Kirk would like to gamble, win or lose, on becoming a screen and Broadway director.

The drive to win has been a part of his nature ever since, as the son of immigrant parents from Russia, he worked his way through college.

He became a top debater, president of the student body, and a champion intercollegiate wrestler.

After slinging hash part-time here and appearing in several Broadway plays, he did a wartime Navy hitch, then went to Hollywood and quickly became a star.

"To me, New York is the greatest city in the world because it has a kind of frightening power, an indifference to everybody except the winner that makes it awesome," Kirk said. "From my youth I also remember the throbbing of it, your ability to get lost in it."

Kirk also remembers as a chief turning point in his life

Rent Subsidy Is Victory for Johnson

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has won his first major congressional victory of 1966 with House approval of funds for his rent subsidy and Teachers Corps programs. But it took some help from Republicans.

A $2.56-billion catch-all appropriation bill passed late Tuesday by the House included money to start the two new "Great Society" projects.

The 269-122 roll-call vote that sent the bill to the Senate after six hours of partisan debate did not reflect the closeness of the battles over the two main issues involved.

Both the rent subsidy program for low-income tenants and the Teachers Corps to help educate children of poor families were approved last year by Congress, but the money to get them started was not provided in the final appropriation bill of 1965.

Republicans who argued that now is not the time to spend federal funds on new domestic programs not related to the war in Viet Nam tried to eliminate money for both the programs.

They centered their fire on the rent subsidy plan designed to promote construction of housing by nonprofit groups for rent to low-income families, with the government paying part of the rent. None of the payments would go to private landlords.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, said he thinks because of the pressure of Viet Nam war expenditures on the economy, taxes may have to go up.

"We might have to increase taxes," he said. "Now the President is saying it and I agree with what he's saying. I hope we don't have to do it."

In the same frame of mind, Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he had hoped a tax increase could be deferred.

In an obvious reference to possible budget cuts, he added: "Let's be sure and see which way the wind is blowing."

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a Senate Finance Committee member, also was in a wait-and-see mood.

"I want to see specifically what the President recommends and study the alternatives," Ribicoff said.

LBj May Ask Tax Hike to Fight Inflation

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's broad indication that he may ask an early tax increase to combat threatened inflation touched off a political uproar in Congress today.

Johnson told a group of young interns finishing a year's government service Tuesday that if prices continue to rise he faces three choices: government controls, a $5-billion to $10-billion cut in federal spending or a tax hike of roughly $5 billion.

He added no one likes controls. He said he doesn't believe spending can be reduced without damaging "necessary or popular programs that Congress wouldn't go along with." He said agencies will report to the Budget Bureau next month on possible economies.

If such reductions are not enough and "if prices are still going up, we will have to have a tax bill," he said. A decision may be reached next month, he told the interns.

This brought an assertion from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen that Johnson is in for "a tug-of-war, a test of strength" with Republicans and conservative Democrats who will fight to cut spending rather than increase taxes.

"This is going to stimulate an economy hunt such as we haven't seen in years," Dirksen said in an interview. "Every buck we can save will mean a buck less in taxes and believe me we're going to hunt for those savings."

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, top Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said he is not going to support any tax increase "as long as the administration continues to press for expenditures that certainly can be deferred."

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, said he thinks because of the pressure of Viet Nam war expenditures on the economy, taxes may have to go up.

"We might have to increase taxes," he said. "Now the President is saying it and I agree with what he's saying. I hope we don't have to do it."

In the same frame of mind, Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he had hoped a tax increase could be deferred.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a Senate Finance Committee member, also was in a wait-and-see mood.

Johnson's Rent Subsidy Bill Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on funds to finance President Johnson's proposed rent supplement program for low-income families. The outcome was expected to be very close.

The showdown provides the first major test of whether Congress wants to initiate new programs at home while paying for the war in Viet Nam.

Administration strategists huddled for two hours Monday in Speaker John W. McCormack's office to chart plans for the showdown. Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, former chief White House lobbyist, was there with his old staff, along with Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development. Weaver would administer the rent supplement plan.

McCormack predicted victory for the $12-million program. But one source said a survey showed the vote could go either way. Calls went out to 20 members who were out of the city, asking them to return for the vote.

The supplement funds are included in a $2.5-billion catch-all appropriations measure. The bulk of the appropriation would go into federal pay raises voted last year.

Mafia Drive Brings, Arrest of 582

ROME (AP) — Interior Minister Emilio Taviani says the Italian government's three-year-old campaign against the Sicilian Mafia has resulted in the arrest of 582 persons suspected of major crimes and court proceedings to banish 846 suspected members of the criminal secret society.

The Mafia, Taviani told the Chamber of Deputies Monday night, "is being uprooted with method and constancy without any truce."

The minister said there had been a marked decrease in homicides, extortions and kidnappings in Sicily last year.

Several Copters Carrying Troops Are Shot Down

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON (AP) — Two hundred U.S. cavalrymen battled against entrapment by a strong Communist force tonight in the central highlands 12 miles southwest of Pleiku. American artillery hammered at the Red lines.

Several troop-carrying helicopters were shot down. One was a heavy-duty Chinook that exploded over the cavalrymen's landing zone in a clearing of the Chu Phong Mountain range, complicating further helicopter landings.

Although poor weather continued to hamper air activity, against North Viet Nam, Navy carrier planes claimed five jets and three sampans destroyed on strafing missions against waterways in the North.

A big Air Force C130 transport also peppered the North — with 10 million propaganda leaflets dropped just over the 17th Parallel frontier. They warned North Vietnamese troops reported massed there that they face destruction if they cross the border.

There have been reports of heavy troop concentrations in that part of the North Vietnamese panhandle, which has been a target for heavy American air attacks since the resumption of the raids two months ago.

Terrorists set off a bomb at a U.S. military billet in Saigon this morning, but inflicted little more than scratches on four or five Americans. The blast, which tore a 20-foot section out of the concrete and brick wall surrounding the downtown villa, came on the anniversary of the explosion at the U.S. Embassy a year ago. Two Americans and 20 Vietnamese were killed in the embassy bombing and 175 persons were wounded.

Different trouble faced a small U.S. Marine billet in Da Nang, scene of recent political unrest following the dismissal of the area's Vietnamese army commander.

Blevins Junior Play Is Friday

"A Feudin' Over Yonder," a three act hillbilly comedy will be presented by the Blevins Junior class at 7:30 Friday, April 1, in the Blevins Gymnasium. Admission will be: Adults 50c and Students 25c.

This fast-moving comedy promises an evening of good entertainment. Master of ceremonies will be Gary Rowland.

He listed the four as the 1st and 2nd Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex., the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 5th Mechanized at Ft. Carson, Colo.

The Army Times, a nonofficial publication with strong service ties, said about 26,000 recruits are being trained by these four divisions.

Not mentioned by the spokesman was the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky. That division — which has shipped one brigade to the war — also is training new men. Reports place the total at 2,000.

A serviceman cannot be assigned overseas until he has had at least four months of training. The Pentagon spokesman said that once a decision was made not to call reservists and National Guardsmen to active duty — but to build up the regular forces gradually — "it was foreseen that some of the divisions would be used" for training.

Army authorities said this action was necessary because Army training centers, though expanded, are overtaxed.

The Defense Department spokesman said "it was planned" that some of the Army divisions in the States would assume training functions.

"It was intended to be that way," he said. "It was not something that just came about."

The spokesman did not explain why the Pentagon had not previously disclosed the action, which he said was authorized last year.

There was no suggestion of this move in Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's March 2 news conference at which he blasted as without foundation reports that the United States is militarily overextended.

"Far from overextending ourselves we have actually strengthened our military position," McNamara contended.
